A STANDARD POLITICAL WORK.

McPHERSON'S

Political History of the Rebellion.

THE Political History of the United States during the Rebellion—extending from November 6, 1860, to July 4, 1864, by Hon. EDWARD McPHERSON, Clerk of the House of Representatives of the United States, is destined to become a standard authority concerning these stirring times, and is among the most useful and interesting books now before the public.

It contains the various STATE PAPERS of the period—Executive, Judicial, and Legislative—and those of the Military which bear upon political questions; also the Propositions submitted to, and the Laws enacted by Congress, with the vote in each House, upon every leading question, such as Confiscation, Arrests, Habeas Corpus, Compensated Emancipation, and every phrase of the Slavery Question; also the "Legal Tender." State Taxation, and other features of our Financial Legislation, with Tables of the National and Rebel Debt, all the Military Legislation, including every Proposition and vote at the late Session respecting the Draft, and all the Propositions for the last four years, in reference to the Objects of the War and its Prosecution, to Peace and Reconstruction, with the votes thereon, in both the Union and Rebel Congresses—a record, of itself, worth the price of the book.

It also contains a full and fair record of the proceedings in and out of Congress, between the Presidential Election of 1860 and the breaking out of the War; including a statement of each Adjustment Proposition made, and votes taken, and all other data necessary to give a clear view of that event, in all its bearings and relations. It also contains the names of the persons composing the Union and Rebel Administrations and Congresses, with the changes therein, and such of the Rebel Legislation, Judicial Rulings, Proclamations, Orders, and Items, as throw light upon the progress of events—the work forming a magazine of facts arranged in logical order, or grouped in natural harmony, and constituting a most valuable contribution to the Historical literature of the country.

In all the votes, parties are classified.

The Index is thorough, both as to names and subjects, giving the reader entire command of the contents.

The New Skirt for 1864.

A NEW AND GREAT INVENTION IN HOOP SKIRTS.

THE DUPLEX ELLIPTIC [or double] Steel Spring. J. I. & J. O. WEST, No. 97 Chambers street, New York, are the owners of the patent and exclusive manufacturers of this J. W. Bradley's Patented Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirts.

This invention consists of Duplex [or two] Elliptic Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together edge to edge, making the toughest, most Elastic Flexible and Durable Spring ever used, enabling the wearer, in consequence of its great elasticity and flexibleness, to place and fold it when in use as easily and with the same convenience as a Silk or Muslin Dress. It entirely obviates and silences the only objections to Hoop Skirts, viz: the annoyance to the wearer as well as the public, especially in crowded assemblies, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, or in any crowded place, from the difficulty of contracting them and occupying a small space. This entirely removes the difficulty, while giving the Skirt the usual full and symmetrical form, and the lightest, most stylish and graceful appearance for the street, opera, promenade, or house dress. A lady having enjoyed the pleasure and comfort and great convenience of wearing one of the Duplex Elliptic Spring Skirts for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with the use of them. They are also equally desirable, and a great improvement over other kinds of Skirts, for Misses and Young Ladies who wear short dresses, the elasticity and flexibility of them prevents when coming in contact with anything crowding the Hoop close to the person, from pushing out the other side of the Hoop or dress; and again, they are so much more durable and not likely to bend or break or get out of shape. The bottom rods on all the Skirts are also double steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps, &c., &c. which they are constantly subject to when in use. All are made of the best quality of corded Tapes, and every part of the Skirt is of the very best materials; it is guaranteed in every respect to be by far the best, most comfortable, and most durable Skirt ever made.

ALICE IN HEAVEN.

BY REV. SIDNEY DYER.

How beauteous is the evening's close,
When twilight draweth nigh,
And gorgeously the mellow rays
Adorn the pensive sky:
It is an hour for holy thought,
But I'll love the even,
For 'tis the hour our darling one,
Our Alice went to Heaven!

We looked upon her angel brow,
Death's touch had made more fair,
Into those gently closing eyes,
The light of Heaven was there!
One fading smile—one look of love—
And life's last tie was riven,
And with the day's departing beam,
Our Alice went to Heaven!

The gloom of night spreads o'er the earth,
A night with starless skies,
But on our sad and riven hearts
A deeper darkness lies:
The dearest light of home is quench'd,
Whose rays such joy had given,
It set to rise no more on earth,
When Alice went to Heaven!

We listen for her cherub voice,
Her merry sylph-like trend,
We watch to see her beaming smile,
Then comes the thought—she's dead!
We murmur not; all, all is well;
Yet each returning even,
Sad thoughts will come, for 'tis the hour
When Alice went to Heaven!

But when such thoughts lie on the soul,
And tears suffuse the eyes,
When murmurs tremble on the lips
That thus the heart He tries,
We think of Him who hath the life
And Resurrection given,
And joy that we shall meet again,
O'r Alice, now in Heaven!

Miscellaneous.

Occupation of Children.

The babits of children prove that occupation is a necessity with most of them—They love to be busy, even about nothing, still more to be usefully employed. With some children it is strongly developed necessity, and if not turned to good account, will be productive of positive evil, thus verifying the old adage that "Idleness is the mother of mischief." Children should be encouraged, or if inherently disinclined to it, be disciplined into performing for themselves every little office relative to the toilet which they are capable of performing. They should also keep their own clothes and other possessions in neat order, and fetch for themselves whatever they want; in short, they should learn to be as independent of others as possible, fitting them alike to make a good use of prosperity, and to meet with fortitude any reverse of fortune that may befall them I know of no rank, however exalted, in which such a system would not prove beneficial.

Do It with All Thy Might.

Fortune, success, fame, position, are never gained but by piously, determinedly, bravely sticking, growing, living to a thing till it is fairly accomplished. In short, you must carry a thing through, if you want to be anybody or anything. No matter if it does cost you the pleasure, the society, the thousand pearly gratifications of life No matter for these. Stick to a thing and carry it through. Believe you were made for the matter and that no one else can do it—Put forth your whole energies. Stir, awake, electrify yourself, and go forth to the task. Only once learn to carry the thing through in all its completeness and proportion, and you will become a hero. You will think better of yourself—others will think better of you. Of course they will The world in its very heart admires the stern determined doer. It sees in him its best sight, its brightest object, its richest treasure. Drive right along then, in whatever you undertake. Consider yourself amply sufficient for the deed. You'll be successful. Never fear.

Belief.

Is a man accountable for his belief? Yes, to a certain extent For example, he has no right to remain ignorant or uninformed when the means of knowledge are within his reach; nor is he justified in cherishing skeptical opinions, or a negative unbelief, when, by opening his mind, he would permit the light to enter, his faith to grow, and his belief in the truth to be established. Idiots, the insane, and the undeveloped will be judged according to their states and conditions. Well-organized human beings will be held accountable even for their belief.

Neither sincerity nor integrity are to be substituted for nor off set against a want of knowledge. Ignorance of organic law is no protection against its infringement. Swallow poison instead of food, and your ignorance will not shield you.

So of the moral and spiritual law. If it be claimed that the "sin of ignorance will be winked at," we reply that that will be according to the nature or degree of the sin. We believe that all sin which is not repented of and forgiven will be punished.

☞It is common to speak of those whom a flirt jilted, as her victims. This is a grave error. Her real victim is the man whom she accepts. This reminds us of a simile—"A coquette is a rose from whom every lover plucks a leaf—the thorn remains for the future husband"

☞A smile is ever the most bright and beautiful with a tear upon it. What is the dawn without its dew?

☞It has been discovered that where a lot of borders are fed for some time on sausages exclusively they begin to growl.

Our Mistakes About Each Other.

Not one man in ten thousand sees those with whom he associates as they really are If the prayer of Burns were granted and we could all see ourselves as others see us, our self estimates would in all probability be much more erroneous than they are now. The truth is, that we regard each other through a variety of lenses, no one of which is correct, passion and prejudice, love and hate, benevolence and envy, spectacle our eyes and utterly prevent us from observing accurately. Many whom we deem the porcelain of human clay are mere pot metal, and a still greater number of those we put down in our "black books" are no further off from Heaven, and perchance a little nearer, than the censors who condemn them. We habitually under value or over value each other, and in estimating character the shrewdest of us only now and then make true appraisal of the virtues and defects of even our closest intimates If we all saw ourselves as the world sees us, multitudes would despise themselves without sufficient cause, and not a few be puffed up with pride for which there would be no honest foundation. It is not just or fair to look at character from a standpoint of one's own selection. A man's profile may be unprepossessing, and yet his full face agreeable. We once saw a young man whose timidity was a standing joke with his companions, leap into the Hudson and save a boy from drowning, while his tormentors stood panic struck on the bank.—The merchant who gives curt answers in his counting room may be a tender husband and father and a kind helper of the desolate and oppressed. On the other hand, your good humored person who is all smiles and sunshine in public, may carry something as hard as the nether millstone in the place where heart ought to be. Such anomalies are common. There is this comfort, however, for those whose misjudgments of their fellow mortals lean to the kindly side—such mistakes go to their credit in great accounts. He who thinks better of his neighbors than they deserve, cannot be a bad man, for the standard by which his judgment is guided is the goodness of his own heart. It is only the base who believe all men base—or, in other words, like themselves. Few, however, are all evil. Even Nero did a good turn to somebody, for when Rome was rejoicing over his death some loving hand covered his grave with flowers.

A Noble Youth.

The following anecdote was related to a gentleman during a night he spent in a farm house in Virginia, some three years ago:

In December, 17—, toward the close of a dreary day, a woman with an infant child were discovered half buried in the snow, by a little Virginian, seven years old. The lad was returning from school, and hearing the moans of some one in distress, threw down his satchel of books and repaired to the spot whence the sound proceeded, with a firmness becoming one of riper years.—Raking the snow from the benumbed body of the mother, and using means to awaken her to a sense of her deplorable condition, at length succeeded in getting her upon her feet; the infant nestling on its mother's breast, turned its eyes toward their youthful preserver and smiled, in gratitude for its preservation. With a countenance filled with hope, the gallant youth cheered the sufferer on, himself bearing with his tiny arms the infant child, while the mother leaned for support on the shoulder of her little conductor. "My home is hard by," would be exclaim, as oft as her spirits failed; and thus for three miles, did he cheer her onward to a happy haven, the mother and child, both of whom must have otherwise perished had it not been for the humane feeling and perseverance of this noble youth.

A warm fire and kind attention soon relieved the sufferer, who it appeared, was in search of her husband, an emigrant from New Hampshire, a recent purchaser of a farm in the neighborhood of ——— near this place. Diligent inquiry for several days found him, and in five months after, the identical house in which we are now sitting was erected, and received the happy family. The child grew up to manhood—entered the army—lost a limb at New Orleans, but returned to end his days, a solace to the declining years of his aged parents.

"And where are they now?" I asked the narrator.

"Here," exclaimed the son. I am the rescued one—there is my mother, and here imprinted on my naked arm is the noble youth, our preserver!"

I looked and read "Winfield Scott."

Fair Job.

A young mother up town, on the important occasion of making her little boy his first pair of colored trowsers, conceived the idea that it would be economical to make them of the same dimensions behind and before, so that they could be changed about and wear evenly—and so she fashioned them. Their effect, when donned by the little victim, was ludicrous in the extreme. Papa, at first sight of the baggy garments so "fearfully and wonderfully made," burst into a roar of laughter, and exclaimed, "Oh! my dear, how could you have the heart to do it? Why, the poor little fellow won't know whether he is going to school or coming home."

☞Nothing teaches patience like a garden. You may go round and watch the opening bud from day to day; but it takes its own time, and you cannot urge it on faster than it will. If forced, it is only torn in pieces. All the best results of a garden, like those of life, are slowly, but regularly progressive.

Couldn't Tell.

A few evenings since a Mr. Slocum was reading an account of a dreadful accident which happened at the factory in the town of L———, and which the village editor had described in a great many words.

"I declare, wife, that was a dreadful accident over to the mill," said Mr. Slocum.

"What was it, Mr. Slocum?

"I will read the account, wife, and then you will know all about it."

Mr. S. began to read:

"Horrible and Fatal Accident—It becomes our painful and melancholy duty to record the particulars of an accident that occurred at the lower mill yesterday afternoon, by which a human being in the prime of life was hurried to that bourne from which, as the immortal Shakspeare says, 'no traveler returns.'"

"Do tell!" exclaimed Mrs. S.

"Mr. David Jones, a workman, who has but few superiors this side the city, was superintending one of the large drums—"

"I wonder if it was a brass drum, such as has 'Eplubust Unum printed on't?" said Mrs Slocum.

"When he became entangled. His arm was drawn around the drum and finally his whole body was drawn over the shaft at a fearful rate. When his situation was discovered, he had revolved with immense velocity about fifteen minutes, his head and limbs striking a large beam a distinct blow at each revolution."

"Poor creeter! how it must have hurt him!"

"When the machinery had been stopped, it was found that Mr. Jones' arms and legs were macerated into a jelly."

"Well, didn't it kill him?" asked Mrs. Slocum, with increasing interest.

Portions of the dura mater, cerebrum and cerebellum, in confused masses, were scattered about the floor; in short the gates of eternity had opened upon him.

Here Mr. Slocum paused to wipe his spectacles and his wife seized the opportunity to press the question—"was the man killed?"

"I don't know till I've finished the piece," and Mr. S. continued reading.

"It was evident that when the shapeless mass was taken down, that it was no longer tenanted by the immortal spirit—that the vital spark was extinct."

"Was the man killed? that's what I want to come to," said Mrs. Slocum.

"Do have a little patience," said Mr. S. eyeing his better half over his spectacles, "I presume we shall come upon it right away." And he went on reading:

"This fatal casualty has cast a gloom over our village, and I trust that it will prove a warning to all persons who are called upon to regulate the powerful machinery of our mills."

"Now," said Mrs. Slocum, perceiving that the article was ended, "now I should like to know whether the man was killed or not."

Mr. Slocum looked puzzled. He scratched his head, scrutinized the article he had been reading, and took a careful survey of the paper.

"I declare, wife," said he, "it's curious, but the paper don't say."

Family Courtesies.

In the family the law of pleasing ought to extend from the highest to the lowest.—You are bound to please your children, and your children are bound to please each other; and you are bound to please your servants, if you expect them to please you. Some men are pleasant in the household, and nowhere else. I have known such men. They were good fathers and kind husbands. If you had seen them in their own house, you would have thought that they were angels, almost; but if you had seen them in the street, or in the store, or anywhere else outside of the house, you would have thought them almost demoniac. But the opposite is apt to be the case.—When we are among our neighbors, or among strangers, we hold ourselves with self-respect, and endeavor to act with propriety; but when we get home we say to ourselves, "I have played a part long enough, and I am now going to be natural." So we sit down, and are ugly and snappish, and blunt, and very disagreeable. We lay aside those thousand little courtesies that make the roughest floor smooth, that make the hardest things like velvet, and that makes life pleasant. We expend all our politeness in places where it will be profitable—where it will bring silver and gold.

"Whar's the Front?"

It is well known, says a rebel paper, that Wheeler has some splendid troops, and some who are as bad as bad can be found. These are scattered from the Ohio river to Savannah. A gallant soldier tells the following: He was going through North Alabama to rejoin his command, and stopped to get his dinner. To the old lady's "Who's youins?" he replied, "Wheeler's cavalry." "Whar gwine?" "To the front." The old lady put on her spectacles, eyed him intently, and then drawled out: "Mister, some of them fellers you call Wheeler's hoss critters have been gwine by here every day—some gwine north, some gwine south, some east, some west, some this way and some that—they all said they were gwine to the front: now, mister, kin you tell me whar is the front?" The soldier left.

☞"Supposing a cow got on your rails while a train was passing, would not that be very awkward?" inquired one of the members of the extensive railway Committee during the examination of the great Stephenson. "Varra," replied the engineer in his strong Northern accent, 'for the coo!'

The Secret.

"I noticed, says Dr. Franklin, "a mechanic, among others at work on a house erecting but a little way from my office, who always appeared to be in a merry humor, who had a kind word and cheerful smile for every one he met. Let the day be ever so cold, gloomy or sunless, a happy smile danced like a sunbeam on his cheerful countenance Meeting him, one morning, I asked him to tell me the secret of his happy flow of spirit. "My secret, doctor," he replied, "is that I have got one of the best wives, and when I go to work she always has a kind word of encouragement for me, and when I go home she meets me with a smile and a kiss, and then tea is sure to be ready, and she has done so many little things through the day to please me that I cannot find it in my heart to speak an unkind word to any body." What an influence, then, hath woman over the heart of man, to soften it and make it the fountain of cheerful and pure emotions! Speak gentle, then; a happy smile and a kind word of greeting, after the toils of the day are over, cost nothing, and go far towards making a home happy and peaceful."

The Science of Smelling.

It is evident to thinking persons that the influence of odors upon the olfactory nerve is not of chance or accident; in truth, all the physical faculties of man are alike governed by immutable laws, in harmony and analogy with each other. Experiments are being prosecuted with earnestness, and gratifying results are obtained, establishing the fact of the perfect analogy between the laws of vision, smelling and hearing. As there are primitive sounds and primitive colors, so there are primitive odors. The primitive colors are now well known to be the violet, indigo, blue, green, yellow, orange, and red—seven in number, as established by Newton. The primitive sounds are indicated in music by the signs E, G, B, D, F, A, C—also seven in number. The primitive odors, as evolved from plants, appear also to be seven. These are camphor, lemon, jessamine, rose, almond, clove, and sandal. All perfumes from flowers are either analogies of these primitive odors, or harmonious combinations. As there are various shades of one color, and various pitches of one note, so there are definite octaves of the primitive odors.

Charge it to Father.

A dry goods dealer, well known in the vicinity of Broadway, and somewhat prominent for his various shakes and jerks when he promenades the streets, was on a foraging expedition a few days since in the centre market. Seeing a buxom Sucker girl in the distance, he approached her, seized her hand, and exclaimed, with much warmth:

"How do you do, my dear young friend? how is your father and mother? when did you leave home? Ah, excuse me, I have forgotten your name, but I stayed all night at your father's house a year ago. (Her father had been dead for ten years.) Perhaps you don't recollect me. My name's ——, my store is on Broadway; call on me—I shall be happy to sell you some bargains," and leaving his card in her hand, our man of tape departed.

Not long afterwards appeared the not very green young lady, who selected goods to the amount of twenty dollars, and picking them up was about to leave, when the polite shopkeeper and friend of the family exclaimed:

"Excuse me, miss, you have forgotten the bill."

"Oh, no," replied Miss Sucker, "please charge it to father."

Utterly confounded, our long friend suffered verdancy in muslin to leave with the bill unpaid.

☞The following story is told to illustrate the remarkable instinct of the feline tribe: Mr Slipheimer, the famous Saxon dentist, had a valuable tortoise shell cat that for days did nothing but mean. Guessing the cause, he looked into its mouth, and seeing a decayed tooth he soon relieved it of its pain. The following day there were at least ten cats at his door, the day after twenty; and they went on increasing at such a rate that he was obliged to keep a big bull dog to drive them away. But nothing would help him. A cat that had the toothache would come any number of miles to see him. However, being one morning very nervous, he accidentally broke the jaw of an old tabby. The news of this spread like wild fire, and not a single cat came to him afterwards.

☞The Providence Journal tells the following story about a member of Congress from the Pacific coast:—Oregon sends a fresh backwoodsman to Congress who had never seen a railroad till he came on this season. He had heard much of the tricks of sharpers, and was determined to keep his eyes open. He kept them open so wide that when the conductor came and tore off the coupon of his car ticket, he seized the worthy officer by the throat, and nearly made an end of him before he could be persuaded that no wrong had been done. That man will make a sharp representative at Washington.

☞Dr. Franklin's celebrated recipe for cheap sleigh-riding runs as follows: Sit in the hall in your night clothes, with both doors open, so that you can get a good draft; your feet in a pail of ice water; drop the front door key down your back; hold an icicle in one hand and ring the tea bell with the other. He says you can't tell the difference with your eyes shut, and it is a great deal cheaper.

A Hero of the Ranks.

MEDICAL DIRECTOR'S OFFICE,
MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Feb. 28, 1865.

Messrs Editors Baltimore American:

SIRS—As an item of interest to the public, and honor to a soldier who, in the language of Gen. Sherman, has endeavored "to do a man's share" in the nation's contest for existence, I send you a true copy of an endorsement on the descriptive roll of Sergeant Jesse Chamberlain, Company I, 1st West Virginia Veteran Cavalry, by his company commander. From this roll of honor it will be seen that the Sergeant has faced the storm of war in thirty three engagements.

He has been in the following battles, viz: Bloomery Gap, Va, Feb. 14, 1862; Winchester, Va, March 23, 1862; Kelley's Ford, Va, August 21, 1862; Bull Run, Va., August 28, 29 and 30, 1862; Chantillie, Va., September 1, 1862; Warrenton Junction, Va, May 3, 1863; Hanover, Pa.; June 30, 1863; Gettysburg, Pa., July 1, 2 and 3, 1863; Monterey, July 4, 1863; Smithburg, Md., July 5, 1863; Boonsboro, Md, July 8, 1863; Hagerstown, Md., July 6, 1863; Gains' Cross Roads, Va, July 24, 1863; Brandy Station and Culpeper, Va. September 13, 1863; Sumerville Ford, Va, Sept. 14, 1863; Roison's Ford, Va.. Sept. 16 and 17, 1863; Culpeper and Brandy Station, Va. Oct. 11, 1863; Gainesville, Va., Oct. 18, 1863; New Baltimore and Bucklin Mills, Oct. 19, 1863; Stevensburg, Va., Nov. 1863; Jefferson, Va, May 8, 1864; Wytheville, Va., May 10, 1864; Lynchburg, Va., June 14 and 15, 1864; Liberty, Va., June 19, 1864; Salem, Va., June 21, 1864; Winchester, Va., July 24, 1864; Martinsburg, Va, Jdly 25, 1864; Hagerstown, Md, July 29, 1864, in which engagement he was wounded while in the line of his duty.

Jesse Chamberlain is now a patient at the General Hospital, Frederick, Md.

Respectfully yours. E W. BUCK,
Assistant Surgeon, U. S. A.,
Acting Medical Director.

Prominent Printers.

An address recently delivered before the Typographical Society at Washington, stated these facts about honors to printers:

The United States Senate has chosen a printer for secretary, a printer for sergeant at arms, while a printer occupies the vice-president's chair. In the House a printer has been elected clerk, a printer postmaster, and on the first Monday of December, 1863, the House of Representatives chose a printer for their foreman or speaker; and also of the fourteen gentlemen who had filled the office of Mayor of Washington, six were printers, namely:

Rapine, Gales, Weightman, Force and Towers.

Woods Leaves.

When the snow has entirely disappeared from the woods, it will be found that the leaves of last year are deposited in much larger masses than usual, on account of the constant presence of snow since the beginning of winter, which prevented them from being scattered over wide spaces They will thus be readily collected for transportation to the stables, pens and barn yards, and no farmer should allow any upon his premises to rot anywhere else. Straw sells so high in the market as to be a strong inducement to secure every cartload of leaves from the woods that is possible. When they lie in compact bodies, a wooden fork, such as is used in threshing, is the handiest to load with; but where they are to be gathered up in heaps, there is nothing better than the common wooden rake.

☞At a certain age children of both sexes delight in stories. It is as natural as it is for them to skip, run and jump, instead of walking at the staid pace of their grand-parents. Now some parents, well-meaning ones, too, think they do a wise thing when they deny this most innocent craving any legitimate outlet. They wish to cultivate, as they say a "taste for good reading." They might as well begin to feed a new-born baby on meat, lest nursing should vitiate its desire for it. The taste for meat will come when the child has teeth to chew it, so will the taste for "solid reading" as the mind matures; i. e. if it is not made to hate it by having it violently thrust upon its attention during the story-loving period. That "there is a time for all things" is true of nothing more than this. Better far that parents should admit it, and wisely indulge it, than by a too severe repression give occasion for stealthy promiscuous reading.

☞A funny fellow had an office next door to a doctor's shop. One day an elderly gentleman, of the old fogy school, blundered into the office.

"Is the doctor in?"

"Don't live here," said the lawyer who was in full scribble over some old documents.

"Oh, I thought this was his office."

"Next door."

"Pray, sir, can you tell me has the doctor many patients?"

"Not living."

The old gentleman told the story in the vicinity, and the doctor threatened the lawyer with a libel.

☞A gentleman not long since, in one of his rides in Southern Illinois, sought to make himself interesting to a good-looking mother of a sweet baby, occupying the next seat in the car. After duly praising the baby he remarked to the mother "He is a real sucker, I suppose?" "No, sir," said the lady, blushing, "we had to raise him on the bottle." The gentleman resumed his reading and has not bragged over any strange baby since.

A Letter from Gen. Sherman—His Views of the Causes of the War and of Its Inevitable Results.

The following letter from Gen. Sherman has just been published:

HEADQ'RS MIL DIV. OF THE MISSISSIPPI,
IN THE FIELD, NEAR MARIETTA, GA.
June 30, 1864.

Mrs. Anna Gilman Bowen, Baltimore:

DEAR MADAM—Your welcome letter of June 18th, came to me here amid the vast sound of battle, and, as you say, little did I dream, when I knew you playing as a school girl on Sullivan's Island beach, that I should control a vast army, pointing, like the swarm of Alaric, towards the plains of the South. Why, oh, why is this? If I know my own heart, it beats as warmly as ever towards those kind and generous families that greeted us with such warm hospitality in days long passed, but still present in memory; and to-day, were Frank and Mrs. Porcher, and Eliza Gilman, and Mary Lamb, and Margaret Blake, the Barksdales, the Quashis, the Pyrors, indeed any and all of our cherished circle, their children, or even their children's children, to come to me as of old, the stern feelings of duty and conviction would melt as snow before the genial sun, and I believe I would strip my own children that they might be sheltered; and yet they call me barbarian, vandal, and monster, and all the epithets that language can invent that are significant of malignity and hate. All I pretend to say, on earth as in heaven, man must submit to some arbiter. He must not throw off his allegiance to his Government or his God without just reason and cause. The South had no cause—not even a pretext. Indeed, by her unjustifiable course, she has thrown away her proud history of the past, and laid open her fair country to the tread of devastating war. She bantered and bullied us into the conflict. Had we declined battle, America would have sunk back, coward and craven, meriting the contempt of all mankind. As a nation, we were forced to accept battle, and that once begun, it has gone on till the war has assumed proportions at which even we, in the hurly-burly, sometimes stand aghast. I would not subjugate the South in the sense so offensively assumed, but I would make every citizen of the land obey the common law, submit to the same that we do—no worse, no better—our equals and not our superiors.

I know, and you know, that there were young men in our day, now no longer young but who controll their fellows, who assumed for the gentlemen of the south, a superiority of courage and manhood, and boastingly defied us of Northern birth to arms. God knows how reluctantly we accepted the issue, but once the issue joined, like in other ages, the Northern race, though slow to anger, once aroused, are more terrible than the more inflammable of the South. Even yet my heart bleeds when I see the carnage of battle, the desolation of homes, the bitter anguish of families, but the very moment the men of the South say that instead of appealing to war they should have appealed to reason, to our Congress, to our courts, to religion, and to the experience of history, then will I say Peace—Peace—go back to your point of error, and resume your places as American citizens, with all their proud heritages.

Whether I shall live to see this period is problematical, but you may, and may tell your mother and sisters that I never forgot one kind look or greeting, or ever wished to efface its remembrance; but in putting on the armor of war, I did it that our common country should not perish in infamy and dishonor. I am married—have a wife and six children living in Lancaster, Ohio. My course has been an eventful one, but I hope, when the clouds of anger and passion are dispersed and truth emerges bright and clear, you and all who knew me in early years will not blush that we were once dear friends. Tell Eliza for me that I hope she may live to realize that the doctrine of "secession" is as monstrous in our civil code as disobedience was in the Divine law. And should the fortunes of war ever bring you or your sisters or any of our old clique, under the shelter of my authority, I do not believe they will have cause to regret it. Give my love to your children, and the assurance of my respects to your honored husband.

Truly, W. T. SHERMAN.

WHAT A WOMAN CAN CARRY.—The Provost Marshal at Beaufort, N. C, recently arrested a suspicious woman, named Eveline Pigott, as she was about to leave town. She was anxious to return to a house from whence she started, but instead was taken to the Marshal's office, where her person was searched by some ladies, and the following stock in trade found concealed under her clothes; 1 pair of fine boots, 2 pairs of pants, 1 shirt, 1 naval cap, 1 dozen linen collars, 1 dozen linen pocket handkerchiefs, 50 skeins sewing silk, a lot of spool cotton, needles, tooth brushes, haircombs, 2 pocket knives, dressing pins, several pair gloves, 1 razor, 4 or 5 pounds assorted candy; besides several letters.

GENER'L GRANT'S POLICY.—The Army and Navy Journal calls attention to one feature of General Grant's military policy, which is having a most remarkable illustration during the present winter:

"There is the constant necessity of pushing the advantages we have of 'keeping the ball of victory rolling,' of holding our steady strain upon the rebellion, without a single respite or relaxation. Such is Gen. Grant's policy. He seems to have dropped the words 'winter quarters' out of his 'dictionary of military terms.' It was predicted when the May campaign opened that it would be the last campaign of the war—and when has it been suspended?"

IMPORTANT TO ALL INVALIDS.
IRON IN THE BLOOD.

IT is well known to the medical profession that iron is the Vital Principle of Life Element of the blood. This is derived chiefly from the food we eat; but if the food is not properly digested, or if, from any cause what ever, the necessary quantity of iron is not taken into the circulation, or becomes reduced, the whole system suffers. The bad blood will irritate the heart, will clog up the lungs, will stupefy the brain, will obstruct the liver and will send its disease-producing elements to all parts of the system, and every one will suffer in whatever organ may be predisposed to disease.

The great value of
IRON AS A MEDICINE
is well known and acknowledged by all medical men. The difficulty has been to obtain such a preparation of it as will enter the circulation and assimilate at once with the blood. This point, says Dr. Hayes, Massachusetts State Chemist, has been attained in the Peruvian Syrup, by combination in a way before unknown

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP
is a protracted solution of the Protoxide of Iron. A new discovery in Medicine, that strikes at the Root of Disease by supplying the blood with its Vital Principle of Life Element—Iron

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Fever and Ague, Loss of Energy, Low Spirits.

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP
Infuses strength, vigor, and new life into the system, and builds up an "Iron Constitution."

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP
Curses Chronic Diarrhoea, Scrofula, Boils, Scurvy, Loss of Constitutional Vigor.

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP
Cures Nervous Affections Female Complaints, and all diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder.

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP
Is especific for all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by Debility or Low State of the System.

HAWLEY'S
SOLIDIFIED
DENTAL CREAM.
FOR CLEANSING, WHITENING AND PRESERVING THE TEETH!

THIS article is prepared with the greatest care upon scientific principles, and warranted not to contain anything in the slightest degree deleterious to the teeth or gums. Some of our most eminent Dental Surgeons have given their sanction to, and cheerfully recommend it as a preparation of superior qualities for cleansing, whitening and preserving the TEETH. It cleans them readily, rendering them beautifully white and pearly, without the slightest injury to the enamel. It is healing to the gums where they are ulcerated and sore. It is also an excellent disinfector for old decayed teeth, which are often exceedingly offensive. It gives a rich and creamy taste to the mouth, cleansing it thoroughly, and imparting a delightful fragrance to the breath.

Prepared only by A. HAWLEY & CO., N. W. Cor. 10th, and Lombard Sts., Philadelphia.

And sold by all Druggists. Price 25 cents.

TESTIMONIALS.

The following opinion of Dr. White, as to the high esteem in which he holds the Dental Cream, must be sufficient evidence of its value; to quote other testimonials in detail is needless, contenting ourselves by simply giving the names and addresses of persons who speak of its excellency for the teeth.

PHILADELPHIA, April 15, 1863.

Having carefully examined A. Hawley's "Solidified Dental Cream," I hereby cheerfully recommend it to the public generally.—It is an excellent preparation for cleansing and preserving the teeth, and can be used by all persons with the utmost confidence, as its properties are perfectly harmless. Besides preserving the teeth, it promotes a healthy action to the gums, and imparts a pleasantness to the breath.

PHILADELPHIA.

L. FAIRBANKS, A. M., PRINCIPAL.

A MODEL BUSINESS COLLEGE.

THE only Commercial Institution in the State conducted upon an original and thoroughly practical system of ACTUAL BUSINESS TRAINING, its working principles having been arranged and perfected by the Principal upon a Model Plan, the merits of which have been fully tested and approved as the most useful and interesting mode of practical instruction ever devised, saving labor and time, and qualifying the Student in the most effective manner, to enter at once upon the duties of the Counting House, or any sphere of usefulness in active business life. The most complete establishment of the kind in the country.

The rooms occupied embrace the whole of the second story, and a portion of the third, in the large building corner of Tenth and Chestnut streets, and for convenience and elegance are unsurpassed. They are fitted up and furnished in the best and most substantial manner, and arranged with Business Offices, Counting Houses, Stationery Store, Telegraph Offices, and a Bank supplied with elegantly engraved lithographic notes, to be used by Students in the practical routine of business, which is carried on as systematically as in the best regulated commercial and financial establishments.

The system of instruction adopted, combining theory and practice in the most perfect manner, presents undisputed advantages over the merely theoretical methods of ordinary "commercial colleges."

THE COURSE OF INSTRUCTION

embraces Book keeping, Commercial Arithmetic, Plain and Ornamental Penmanship, Business Correspondence, Commercial Law, Lectures on Business Affairs, Commercial Customs, Forms, &c., with their practical application, in all their details, in the various departments of trade and commerce; also, Algebra, and the Higher Mathematics, Phonography, the Art of detecting Counterfeit Money, Engineering, Surveying, Navigation and Telegraphing, constituting the most complete and comprehensive course ever adopted in any commercial institution.

Young men in all parts of the country who wish to qualify themselves for active business life, and secure good positions, are invited to send for the new Illustrated Circular and Catalogue, giving complete interior views of the College, and full particulars of terms, &c.

Letter from Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher, in 1861.

I am most happy to speak in the very highest terms of the "UNIVERSAL CLOTHES WRINGER." The hardest part of "washing day" work is in my opinion, the wringing; and the inventor of this machine may have the satisfaction of feeling that he has changed one of the most toilsome parts of woman's work into a very attractive amusement. The laundress looks upon upon it as a great blessing. I look upon it as among the most useful articles in the house.

Dr. Marshall's Catarrh Snuff.

THIS Snuff has thoroughly proved itself to be the best article known for curing the Catarrh, Cold in the Head and Headache. It has been found an excellent remedy in many cases of Sore Eyes, Deafness has been removed by it, and hearing has often been greatly improved by its use.

It is fragrant and agreeable, and gives immediate relief to the dull heavy pains caused by diseases of the head. The sensations after using it are delightful and invigorating.—It opens and purges out all obstructions, strengthens the glands, and gives a healthy action to the parts affected. More than thirty years' of sale and use of Dr. Marshall's Catarrh and Headache Snuff, has proved its great value for all the common diseases of the head, and at this moment stands higher than ever before.

It is recommended by many of the best physicians, and is used with great success and satisfaction everywhere. Read the certificates of wholesale Druggists in 1864.

The undersigned having for many years been acquainted with Dr. Marshall's Catarrh and Headache Snuff, and sold it in our wholesale trade, cheerfully state, that we believe it to be equal, in every respect, to the recommendations given of it for the cure of Catarrh Affections, and that it is decidedly the best article we have ever known for all common diseases of the head.

TO VETERANS EVERYWHERE.

Come and join us, whether you live in Maine or Michigan, New Jersey, Delaware, Iowa or any other loyal State. All who know the gallant Hancock, and all who ever served under the brave Birney, need no inducement to join us after they have made up their minds to return to the front. Besides this, make yourselves recruiting officers, and talk the matter over with the "boys." Bring all you can with you, and you shall be put in the same company, and we will have a brigade without jealousies or strife. Think of this, and don't take much time to decide We want to put the thing through before the first of May.

OFFICERS

will be appointed by General Hancock. No one need apply to any one but him. The committees cannot take the time to decide upon such questions, or to answer letters. We want to get the soldiers and attend to their comforts.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN,
Chief of Detective Police, Mayor's Office, Phila.

From the great mass of official correspondence, we select the following, as exhibiting the manner in which the Veteran Recruits have been received and provided for. Circulars, giving full particulars, may be had at this office, or at recruiting stations, (about to be organized,) in different sections of the country:

WASHINGTON, D. C. Feb 16, 1865

Benj Franklin, Esq., Chief of Detective Police, Philadelphia:

MY DEAR SIR:—Your detachment of veterans for the 1st Corps arrived yesterday. The men, without exception, have been mustered into the service of the United States. I am very much obliged to you for the exertion you have used toward filling up my corps, and I trust that the success you have thus far met with may be an earnest for greater success in the future.

I am, very respectfully, your obd't servant,
WINFIELD S. HANCOCK,
Maj. Gen. U. S. A. Commanding Corps.

HEADQUARTERS 1ST ARMY CORPS,
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13, 1865.

Benj. Franklin, Chief of Police, Corner of Fifth and Chestnut, Philadelphia:

Substitutes for enrolled men do not receive the Government bounty. Principals are exempted from draft. Volunteers, substitutes, and representative recruits residing in Philadelphia are credited to that city in coming drafts. Pay commences from the day the enlistment is perfected. Letter by mail.

W. S. HANCOCK, Major General.

It is to be expressly understood that veterans, either of the INFANTRY SERVICE, CAVALRY, ARTILLERY, or NAVAL, may be credited to the city, town, county or township where they reside.

The following affidavit will exhibit at once the admirable demeanor of the recruits when they arrived at Washington, and how they were mustered in.

WASHINGTON, D C. Feb. 19, 1865.

I hereby certify that as a Notary Public I was required to be present at Camp Stoneman, yesterday, the 18th, on the occasion of mustering in of twenty-eight men, recruited by BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, Esq., Chief of Detectives of Philadelphia. That they were all sworn in and uniformed in my presence, and they acknowledged that they had been paid all of the bounties promised them by Mr. FRANKLIN.

"I further state, that all of the above men expressed themselves as satisfied with the conduct of Mr. Franklin. I further say, of my own knowledge, that efforts were made by persons about the Baltimore depot in Washington to induce the men to violate their engagements with Mr. Franklin, but to no effect. I say this for the credit of the men, whose names are given above." See Circular.

A. G. LAWRENCE, Notary Public.

CONCLUSION.

All veterans who desire to have their interests looked after without being swindled by sharpers are directed to the Recruiting Agency, 106 South Sixth Street, "Berry's Marquee," where the rifle is to be seen daily which the Veteran is entitled to keep at the expiration of his term of service, which discharges sixteen shots per minute.

All communications on this subject after this explanation must be brief and to the point.—Will be promptly answered by addressing

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN,
Chief Detective Department Police, Mayor's Office, Phila.

N. B.—No Loafers, Bounty Jumpers, or Commission Men need apply, as no dealing will be allowed with them.

Remember, that each veteran will be supplied with a patent-breech loading rifle, that can be fired off 16 times per minute.

300,000

Watches, Chains, Sets of Jewelry, Rings, Pins, Bracelets, Sleeve Buttons, Silver Spoons and Forks, Cups, Cake Baskets, &c, worth Eight Hundred Thousand Dollars,

The entire Stock of a large Importing House, retiring from business.

For the purpose of closing out the stock at the earliest possible date, the undersigned have decided on a great distribution made as follows, each and every article, no matter how valuable, being sold for $1.

A Certificate of each article with its value printed upon it is placed in an envelope and sealed—these envelopes are thoroughly mixed and sold for twenty-five cents each—the person receiving one of these envelopes is entitled to the article named therein by returning the Certificate to us with one dollar, and the article, no matter how valuable it may be, will be forwarded to him or her at once. There are no blank certificates and therefore every one is sure to get at least, the full value of his or her money. Should the article named in the certificate not suit, any other which he may select of the same value will be substituted. We sell the certificates as follows:

One for 25 cents, five for $1, eleven for $2 thirty for $5, sixty-five for $10, one hundred for $15. This distribution affords a fine opportunity for Agents, as what lady or gentleman will not invest twenty-five cents with a prospect of getting five hundred or a thousand times as much. All orders must be addressed to us at our old stand No. 15 Maiden Lane, New York.

U. S. 7-30 Loan!

BY authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of United States Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three tenths per cent. interest, per annum, known as the

SEVEN-THIRTY LOAN.

These notes are issued under date of August 15th, 1864, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S 5-20 Six per cent. GOLD-BEARING BONDS.

These bonds are now worth a premium of nine per cent., including gold interest from Nov., which makes the actual profit on the 7-30 loan, at current rates, including interest, about ten per cent. per annum, besides its exemption from State and municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to

One cent per day on a	$50	note.
Two cents " "	$100	"
Ten " " "	$500	"
20 " " "	$1000	"
$1 " " "	$5000	"

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions. This is now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the

THE ONLY LOAN IN MARKET

GREAT POPULAR LOAN OF THE PEOPLE.

Less than $200,000,000 remain unsold, which will probably be disposed of within the next 60 or 90 days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

JAY COOKE,
Subscription Agent, Philadelphia.

Subscriptions will be received by the First National Bank of Gettysburg, and the Gettysburg National Bank. [Feb. 21.—3m.

All the goods in the above List will be sold, without reservation, for ONE DOLLAR EACH. Certificates of all the various articles are placed in similar envelopes sealed and mixed. These envelopes will be sent by mail, or delivered at our office, without regard to choice. On receiving a Certificate, you will see what article it represents, and it is optional with you to send one dollar, and receive the article named or any other in the list of same value.

By this mode we give selections from a varied stock of fine goods, of the best make and latest styles, and of intrinsic worth, at a nominal price, while all have a chance of securing articles of the very highest value.

In all transactions by mail we charge for forwarding the Certificate, paying postage, and doing the business, 25 cents each. Five certificates will be sent for $1; Eleven for $2; Thirty for $5; Sixty-five for $10; and One Hundred for $15.

REASONS WHY

We should supply your wants; our facilities are unsurpassed; our work of unrivalled excellence; our promises punctually observed. Our central location brings us near the most remote points. Our goods are new from the manufacturers, and of the latest and most desirable styles. The goods must be sold, and the terms are unequalled. All articles ordered are forwarded by return mail.

We guarantee entire satisfaction in every instance, and if there should be any person dissatisfied with any article they may receive, they will immediately return it, and the price will be refunded.

AGENTS.—We allow those acting as Agents Ten Cents on each Certificate ordered, provided their remittance amount to One Dollar.

They will collect 25 cents for every Certificate, and, retaining 10 cents, remit to us 15 cents for each. Address, Heartrending Kerosene Accident.

A Mother and Four Children Burned to Death.—A correspondent of the Buffalo Express in Erie county, New York, gives the particulars of a terrible accident which occurred at that place last Monday evening resulting in the death of Mrs. Uriah Clark, and the serious and probably fatal injury of three of her children and a girl aged thirteen. Mrs Clark and her three children were seated at a table, on which was placed a lighted lamp, which the girl undertook to fill with kerosene. In attempting this, the blaze communicated to the oil in the lamp, causing an explosion of both the can and the lamp, and instantly enveloping all four persons in a sheet of liquid fire. Efforts were made in vain to extinguish the flames. The unfortunate mother was burned to a blackness from head to foot, and her features so horribly disfigured that her most intimate friends could not recognize her. She survived till Tuesday, enduring the most intense agony.

U. S. SENATE, March 1.—Mr Trumbull, from the joint committee of the two Houses to acquaint Abraham Lincoln that he is elected President for another term of four years, reported that they had discharged that duty, and the President replied, accepting the high trust, as follows:

"Having served four years in the depths of a great and yet unended national peril, I can view this call to a second term in no wise more flattering to myself than as an expression of the public judgment that I may better finish the difficult work in which I have labored from the first than could any one less severely schooled to the task. In this view, and with assured reliance on that Almighty Ruler who has so graciously sustained us thus far, and with increased gratitude to the generous people for their continued confidence, I accept the renewed trust with its yet onerous and perplexing duties and responsibilities."

☞At a recent letting of pews in the Unitarian church in San Francisco, of which the Rev. Mr. Stebbins is pastor, the amount obtained was twenty-seven thousand dollars in gold, equal at the day of bidding to seventy thousand dollars in currency.—This exceeds the rental of Mr. Beecher's church, which was fifty thousand dollars for the last year. Mr. Beecher's salary is twelve thousand five hundred dollars, and the sexton of his church receives two thousand five hundred dollars a year. The Unitarian church in San Francisco was built for the late Thomas Starr King. The amount received this year for the pews exceeds by two thousand dollars that of the years under Mr. King's preaching. The church is very large—the largest in the city—is out of debt, and every pew was taken, except those reserved for strangers.

THE NEW YORK HOTEL BURNING PLOT.—The trial of Howell Cobb Kennedy, a rebel, before a military commission in New York, charged with being a spy and one of the parties who sometime since attempted to fire the hotels in that city, has been concluded. The evidence against him, is said to have been very strong. The prisoner is a man of apparently 30 years of age, said to be well connected at the South, is a relative of Howell Cobb, and educated at West Point.

THE OIL FEVER.—The business at the Philadelphia board in oil stock is increasing. Some idea of the extent of the business of creating these stocks may be inferred from the fact that there are over three hundred and fifty companies in that city, with upwards of thirty four millions of shares! and a nominal capital of nearly two hundred millions of dollars.

A SLEEPING CAR BURNED ON THE PENNA. RAILROAD.—On Monday, when the Erie Express train of the Pennsylvania railroad was near Lancaster, the sleeping car took fire from the stove, and in a short time was entirely consumed. The sleeping passengers had scarcely time to escape from the burning car, but fortunately no lives were lost. The clothing and baggage of the inmates of the car were destroyed.

☞The killed and wounded by railroad accidents since New Years, already figures up a total of six hundred and two; sixty-one deaths, and the rest wounded and maimed. The accidents last week alone added eight to a total of forty five during the year.

☞A. O. P. Nicholson, formerly a Senator in Congress, has just been released from the Tennessee Penitentiary and ordered to be tried for conspiracy against the Government. He has been trying for 3 years to be both loyal and rebel at the same time, and has never quite made up his mind to either side.

☞A wealthy citizen of Rochester, N. Y., proposes to furnish a lot and $100,000 in money if the capital of New York is removed to Rochester, and New York city offers to give its new court house in the Park for a State capitol if the State will move its seat of government down from Albany.

☞The Secretary of State of New Jersey has furnished a return of the births, marriages and deaths in the various counties in that State during the last year. The totals are:—births, 14,553; marriages, 5,007; and deaths, 10,520.

☞General Grant, in a private letter to Mr. Washburn, of the House of Representatives, speaks very hopefully of Sherman's movements, and expresses the opinion that a few more days of successful operations will put the Rebels in a position from which there will be no escape.

☞A semi-official despatch from Washington says that recruiting is now going forward at a rate which, if kept up, will speedily reinforce our armies. The average daily enlistments for the last ten days of February was three thousand two hundred and ninety six per day, a total for the ten days of over thirty two thousand men.

☞A block of tenement houses was burned at Chicago on the afternoon of Wednesday last. Some twenty families were rendered homeless, besides losing all their property. Five stores were also destroyed. The entire loss was upwards of twenty thousand dollars.

INTERNAL REVENUE DECISION.—By decision of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, an ordinary notice of landlord to a tenant to vacate at the expiration of his term is not subject to stamp duty.

THE ADAMS SENTINEL.

GETTYSBURG:

Tuesday Evening, March 7, 1865.

☞MR. MINNIGH, the General News Agent, of this place, is indefatigable in his efforts to accommodate the public both in newspapers and periodicals. He is supplied constantly with the most choice of both, and gives all the attention to that branch of business which the most fastidious could require. He deserves ample encouragement.

☞MR. GEORGE PATTERSON, one of the citizens of this neighborhood, who was taken prisoner with others after the battle of Gettysburg, and carried off by the rebels, has returned from Salisbury, N. C., where he was confined. He is the only one of the six taken at the time, who has been exchanged, or rather paroled. Messrs. Guinn, Trostle, Codori, and the two Harpers, are still in the hands of the Rebels. Wm. Harper died a few weeks ago at Salisbury. Events connected with the capture of MR. PATTERSON, have been of a painful character. Shortly after the battle, his wife died and was buried during his absence; and on the very day of his return his aged mother was buried. We hope soon to hear of the return of the others.

Robbery on the Cars.

On Friday week, W. B Mullen, Esq., of Mount Holly Springs, was robbed of upwards of three hundred dollars, while in the Cumberland Valley train, en route for Harrisburg. The wallet was abstracted from Mr. M.'s pantaloons pocket. A suspected party was arrested in Harrisburg, but subsequently discharged, as the money could not be fully identified.

Beware!

The Provost Marshal gives notice that men who enlist after they are drafted are considered as deserters from the draft, and must be credited to their enrolment places, no matter whether they received local bounties on their illegal enlistment or not.—Men subject to draft should be careful and avoid trouble.

☞We invite attention to the advertisement in to-day's paper relative to Gen. Hancock's corps of veterans. There are still many veterans in the country who must feel like being in at the final triumph of the Union armies. The orders are so modified now that men may enter this corps as substitutes and may be credited to any locality, and they may also enter this corps as substitutes for drafted men. They can thus get very large bounties, as in addition to the government bounty they can receive their pay as substitutes.

Mr. Franklin is an energetic man; he stands deservedly high in the estimation of the National Government. His official position has enabled him to obtain full knowledge of the bogus substitute, bounty-jumping business, loafers and swindlers generally, and he is therefore competent and anxious to protect the veterans against all sharpers.

Fatal Accident.

MR JOSHUA BAUMGARDNER went, on the 17th ult, on some business to his neighbor at Mr. Ephraim Nace's Mill, in West Manheim township, and finding the miller engaged in cutting ice from the water wheel, assisted, and while Mr. Nace went into the mill to fasten the grindstones, the wheel began to move, caught Mr. Baumgardner and killed him instantly. His age was 39 years, less 2 days, and leaves a wife and five small children to mourn his early death.—Hanover Spectator.

☞BOLD THEFT.—The clerk of a firm in New York went into the Bank of Commerce, on Tuesday last, with four canvas bags, each containing $5,000 in gold, for the purpose of depositing them. He placed them on the counter, in charge of a boy, while he joined in the row of depositors, waiting his turn. In a few moments he heard the cry "Stop thief," and saw a man running off with one of his bags. He pursued him, and in a short time the police caught the villain. When he returned he discovered that during the excitement another of his bags was missing, and with this the thief made his escape. This man is supposed to have been an accomplice of the thief.

☞Martin R. Delaney, a colored man, of Pittsburg, has received a commission as Major in the army, of U. S. colored troops. This is the first instance in which one of his race has been commissioned to such a command in one of our armies.

Another Victory!

TOTAL DEFEAT OF GEN. EARLY!!

An official despatch from Secretary Stanton, on Saturday evening last, says Gen'l Sheridan had routed Rebel Gen. Early totally, between Staunton and Charlottesville, and captured Early and nearly his entire force, consisting of 1800 men! This will tell on the cause.

Destructive Fire.

A Child Burned to Death.—We learn that on the night of the 20th of February, between the hours of nine and ten o'clock, the dwelling of Mr. HENRY NELL, in York county, Washington township, three miles from East Berlin, took fire and was entirely consumed, with the furniture and most of the contents. The loss is estimated at about $3,000. The saddest feature of this misfortune, was the burning to death of one of Mr. Nell's children, a lad of about nine years of age. He had gone to bed in company with an elder brother in a room on the second floor, and was either suffocated or burned to death before he could be rescued. His father made two efforts to save him, but failed, after having almost lost his own life in the attempt. The remains of the boy were recovered from the burning ruins the next day. His head, arms and legs were entirely consumed. The rest of the family, consisting of the father, mother and eight children, made their escape. The lad was buried on the following Wednesday, at the Bermudian burying ground, an appropriate sermon being preached on the occasion by the Rev. Mr. Deininger.

☞The French Chambers were opened on the 15th of Feb by a speech from the Emperor. He made no reference to American affairs. A very significant feat at Paris, was that Prince Napoleon had given a splendid reception, to which no member of the Southern Confederacy was invited, whilst Northern Americans were largely in the ring.

☞Gov. Cannon, of Delaware, died at his residence in that State on Wednesday last. The Governor was a thorough and earnest Unionist, and his death at this time is to be regretted on public as well as private grounds.

☞A bill passed the U. S. Senate on Wednesday last, authorizing the appointment of a chief of Staff for the Lieutenant General of the Army, with the rank and pay of a Brigadier General.

☞We call attention to the advertisement of WM. BLAIR & SON, Carlisle, for sale of Groceries and Queensware. They have a very large and superior establishment—worth public attention.

☞The attention of Milliners and Merchants is invited to the advertisement of Brooks & Rosenheim, No. 431 Market St., Phila, in this issue.

☞The Constitutional amendment prohibiting Slavery in the United States was defeated in the New Jersey Legislature by a tie vote, 30 to 30.

A MILLION DOLLARS IN A MINUTE.—On Saturday about 3 o'clock the order by telegraph from various parts of the country and from Philadelphia, to Mr. Jay Cooke, for the new loan, in the space of a single minute exceeded one million of dollars.

TERRIBLE DEATH IN A RAILROAD CAR.—The Buffalo papers give the following particulars of the death of Mr. Godfrey Schultz, of that city:

He was on his way to Warren, Pa., when a collision took place, and he grasped his carpet bag, and essayed to make his escape from the car. Just then the baggage car came crashing in through the car he occupied, and before he could release himself he was jammed in between two seats—The stove was upset, and in a moment the car was in flames. Every effort was made to release him from his frightful position, but without avail. He cried in his agony to those that were near him not to let him perish; but they were powerless. Large quantities of snow were thrown in through the window of the burning car, and with desperate energy he stooped down, gathered it with his hands, and applied it to his face and body. One man worked his way into the car, but could not reach the helpless victim, and was got out with great difficulty after having been badly burned. But the merciless flames continued to wrap the unfortunate man in their folds, and for twenty minutes he was clothed in fire before the soul deserted the veriest cinder of a body. He was a man of great strength and vitality, and his sufferings no pen can adequately describe.

☞A telegraphic dispatch from General Cameron to Senator Lowry, announces that Col. Harry White has been promoted to Brigadier General. The administration never did an act that gave greater satisfaction to the Senate of Pennsylvania, than this promotion; and the Senators are jubilant over it, inasmuch as the gallant Colonel was a member of that body at the time of his incarceration in the rebel prisons.

☞The headquarters of an immense gang of thieves, robbers, and counterfeiters in the State of Illinois has been discovered, and eight men and two women belonging to it have been arrested. A large amount of property, supposed to have been stolen by this party, has also been found and identified by the owners.

PHILADELPHIA, March 3.—Jay Cooke reports the subscriptions to the 7-30 loan received to-day at $3,366,300. The largest Western subscription was for $150,000 from Pittsburg, and the largest Eastern $750,000, from New York. There were 2,352 individual subscriptions for small sums.

THE INAUGURATION.

On Saturday last, the Hon. ABRAHAM LINCOLN and the Hon. ANDREW JOHNSON were duly inaugurated at Washington, as President and Vice President, respectively of the United States, in the presence of thousands of people. The procession was over a mile in length, and was of the most splendid character. We cannot give any particulars to-day. After taking the oath of office at the central portico of the Capitol, the President rose and addressed the vast throng as follows:

THE INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

Fellow-Countrymen—At this second appearing to take the oath of the Presidential office, there is less occasion for an extended address than there was at the first. Then a statement somewhat in detail of a course to be pursued seemed fitting and proper—Now, at the expiration of four years, during which public declarations have been constantly called forth on every point and phase of the great contest which still absorbs the attention and engrosses the energies of the nation, little that is new could be presented.

The progress of our arms, upon which all else chiefly depends, is as well known to the public as to myself, and it is, I trust, reasonably satisfactory and encouraging to all.

With high hope for the future, no prediction in regard to it is ventured. On the occasion corresponding to this four years ago, all thoughts were anxiously directed to an impending civil war. All dreaded it—all sought to avert it. While the inaugural address was being delivered from this place, devoted altogether to saving the Union without war, insurgent agents were in the city seeking to destroy it without war—seeking to dissolve the Union and divide the effects, by negotiation.

Both parties deprecated war. But, one of them would make war rather than let the Nation survive, and the other would accept war rather than let it perish—and the war came. One-eighth of the whole population were colored slaves—not distributed generally over the Union, but localized in the Southern part of it. These slaves constituted a peculiar and powerful interest. All knew that this interest was somehow the cause of the war.

To strengthen, perpetuate and extend this interest was the object for which the insurgents would rend the Union—even by war; while the Government claimed no right to do more than to restrict the territorial enlargement of it. Neither party expected for the war the magnitude or the duration which it has already attained—Neither anticipated that the cause of the conflict might cease with or even before the conflict itself should cease. Each looked for an easier triumph and a result less fundamental and astounding.

Both read the same Bible and pray to the same God, and each invoke His aid against the other. It may seem strange that any men should dare to ask a just God's assistance in wringing their bread from the sweat of other men's faces; but let us judge not, that we be not judged. The prayers of both could not be answered—that of neither has been answered fully.

The Almighty has his own purposes "Woe unto the world because of offences, for it must needs be that offences come; but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh." If we should suppose that American slavery is one of those offences which in the providence of God must needs come, but which having continued through his appointed time, He now wills to remove, and that He gives to both North and South this terrible war as the woe due to those by whom the offence came, shall we discern therein any departure from those Divine attributes which the believers in a living God always ascribe to Him?

Fondly do we hope—fervently do we pray—that this mighty scourge of war may speedily pass away; yet, if God wills that it continue until all the wealth piled by the bondsman's two hundred and fifty years of unrequited toil shall be sunk, and until every drop of blood drawn with the lash shall be paid by another drawn with the sword, as was said three thousand years ago, so still it must be said: "The judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether." With malice towards none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow, and his orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations.

At the conclusion of the Address, there was great cheering among the multitude; and at the same moment grand salutes of 100 guns were fired from various parts of the city, making a roar of artillery such as never before been heard in Washington.

In the evening there was a public reception at the White House, which was a splendid one; and last night the inaugural ball was to come off at the Patent Office, which, it was thought, would be the most brilliant ever held.

☞Two freight trains on the Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia Railroad collided at Stemmer's Run on Tuesday night. Both locomotives were considerably damaged, and nearly all the cars, twenty six in number, broken up. All on the trains jumped off, and thus escaped personal injury, excepting Martin Berger, a fireman, who was caught between the locomotive and tender, and crushed.

☞In the House of Representatives Mr. Webster, from the Committee on Claims, to whom was referred the petition of the loyal citizens of Loudoun county, Va., for the compensation for property destroyed by fire, and for live stock taken for the use of the army or sold for the benefit of the United States by order of Major General Sheridan, made a reported. The claims amount to $195,799,26 for property burned. The committee reported a joint resolution, which was passed, to refund to loyal citizens the sums due them amounting in the aggregate to $60,702.80.

☞Henry S. Foote, member from Tennessee of the rebel House of Representatives, was on Monday last expelled from that body by a unanimous vote.

THE DRAFT.—Below we give the names of those drafted in the several sub-districts named. It will be observed that no draft has yet been made in a number of townships; this is in consequence of the vigorous efforts making by the citizens of those localities to fill their respective quotas, and, as long as those efforts are likely to prove successful, no draft will take place in such townships:

FROM CHARLESTON!

[OFFICIAL BULLETIN.]

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON March 1, 1865.

Major General Dix, New York:

The following despatch from General Gillmore has been transmitted to this Department:

EDWIN M STANTON,
Secretary of War.

"HEADQRS DEP'T OF THE SOUTH,
CHARLESTON, S C. Feb 26, 1865.

"To General H. W. Halleck, Chief of Staff, Washington, D. C:

The inspection of the Rebel defenses of Charleston shows that we have taken over four hundred and fifty pieces of ordnance, being more than double what I first reported.

The lot includes 8 and 10 inch columbiads, a great many 32 and 42-pounder rifles, some 7 inch Brook's rifles, and many pieces of foreign make.

We also captured eight locomotives and a great number of passenger and platform cars, all in good condition.

Deserters report that the last of Hardee's army was to have crossed the Santee river yesterday, bound for Charlotte, N. C., and that it was feared that Sherman had already intercepted their march. It is reported on similar authority, that the last of Hood's army, 12,000 strong, passed through Augusta last Sunday, the 19th, on its way to Beauregard

Georgetown, S. C., has been evacuated by the enemy, and is now in our possession. Deserters are coming in constantly. We have over four hundred already.

"Q A. GILLMORE,
Major General Commanding."

☞Col. Campbell, of the 17th Kentucky Cavalry, by permission of Gen. Hooker, crossed the Ohio river a few days ago, in pursuit of a number of noted horse stealing guerillas, and his expedition has proved highly successful. He succeeded in gathering in fifteen or twenty of the scoundrels at Saline Mines, Shawneetown, Grayville, and Fairfield. They were tried by drum-head court martial, found guilty and shot. The Federal forces in Kentucky are determined to make their work effectual.

☞The municipal election in Frederick city on Monday a week resulted in the election of the Union candidates. The principal question involved was whether the county should become responsible for the money taken from the Frederick Banks by the Rebels in July last. The vote was against assuming the responsibility.

☞Tennessee has undoubtedly ratified the new State Constitution. The vote in the city of Nashville was one thousand three hundred and forty-nine in favor to only four against. The returns from four towns adjacent to Nashville, casting nine hundred votes in all, are unanimous in favor of the new Constitution.

☞As the exchange of prisoners is now proceeding very rapidly, and all now in Southern prisons will soon be released, the Paymaster General has issued an order suspending payments to the families of prisoners of war. This is done to prevent the liability of double payments in settling with the returned prisoners.

EXCITED CONGRESSMEN.—A Washington letter writer relates that the most amusing scene in the confusion attending the passage of the Constitutional amendment, was the hugging and kissing of Mr. Brandegee, of Connecticut, and Mr. Spaulding, of Ohio.

THE CASE OF MISS HARRIS.—Hon. Daniel Voorhees, Judge Hughes, late of the Court of Claims, and J. P. Bradley, Esq, have been retained to defend Miss Harris, the slayer of Mr. Burroughs, of the Treasury Department at Washington.

☞The clothes of a man who died of small-pox in Providence, the other day, were buried to prevent infection. A negro dug them up and took them to an auction room, where they were sold. By handling the goods the auctioneer took the disease, and has since died. The negro was arrested and fined $3 and costs.

☞The blacks love freedom; they do not love cold. They will sometimes brave cold for the sake of liberty; but, make freedom universal and they will nearly all prefer the South to the North. Abolish slavery, and black faces will become nearly as rare in our city as in London or Dublin.

☞The Legislature of Louisiana has ratified the Constitutional Amendment for the Abolition of Slavery. On the 13th Gov. Hahn sent to the House an official copy of the Act of Congress; the House adopted a ratifying joint resolution at once by a unanimous vote; the Senate voted on the 17th, the same way, with but one dissenting voice, and the Governor immediately approved the act and caused it to be promulgated.

☞The cry down South is still "annihilate the Yankees!" That game of annihilation is like the Frenchman's receipt for cooking a rabbit.—"You must first catch ze rabbit."

☞Recruiting is reported very active in Ohio. The State will put all the regiments in the field asked by the Secretary of War.

☞The act to prevent officers and others in military and naval service from interfering in elections, has been signed by the President.

☞Wm. H. Seward considers the capture of Wilmington the most important event of what he describes as Sherman's incomparable campaign.

☞At Point Lookout there were enlisted of rebel prisoners, for the First U. S. Vol., 1,105, and for Second U. S. Vol, 389. These enlistments were made under directions of the President, were never credited to any State, nor did they receive any bounties, and by direction of General Grant they were sent to the department of the northwest, where they have been ever since. In Oct., 1864, by instructions of the President, 1,750 rebel prisoners were enlisted at Rock Island, Ill., and credited to Pennsylvania, with the exception of 12 credited to Ohio. These received no United States bounty, but were paid local bounties where credited. They were, on Major General Pope's application, ordered to the department of Missouri. No other rebel prisoners but those herein named have enlisted, so far as known.

☞The President has sent to the Senate the opinion and finding of the Court of Inquiry in reference to the failure of the Petersburg mine assault. The Court censured General Burnside for not obeying the orders of his commanding general, in the formation of the assaulting column, and for not making necessary preparations for the passage of his troops. Generals Ledlie, Wilcox and Ferrero, and Col Bliss, are censured for want of energy in failing to push forward the troops which they commanded. The court also express the opinion that the command of all the troops engaged in the assault ought to been have given to one officer, Gen. Burnside not being present in person to witness the operation.

☞The Navy Department has information of the capture of a cotton laden schooner in the Gulf, off Texas, and of the destruction of the large iron screw blockade-runner Will o' the Wisp, while aground on Galveston, by a boat's crew from the U. S. steamer Princess Royal. Another blockade runner, the steamer Acadia, is ashore off Velasco, and has been burned by the shells of the U. S. steamer Virginia. The schooners Pet and Ann Sophia, with four hundred and seventy bales of cotton, were recently captured in Galveston Bay by an expedition from the United States steamer Bienville.

☞Information was received by the Navy Department on Wednesday, of the capture of the blockade running steamer "Syren," on the night of the 18th ultimo, by the crews of the U. S. steamer Philadelphia and Gladiolus, whilst she was at anchor near the bridge on Ashley river, intending to run into Charleston, S. C. The steamer was set on fire by her crew, and contrabands were actively engaged in removing her cargo, which was an assorted one, but the Union forces took possession of the vessel and extinguished the flames, and saved both vessel and cargo.

SENT BEYOND THE LINES.—A letter from Winchester states that Gen. Sheridan has sent Mrs. Hugh H. Lee, Miss Lee and two Miss Burwells, beyond the Federal lines, for indiscreet conduct, which provoked the exercise of military power. Mrs. M. A. Sheward and three daughters were also ordered to be sent South, but the order relating to Mrs. S. was subsequently revoked. The two Lees are relatives of General Lee.

WEDNESDAY, March 1.—General Grant does not want men for short terms. After Wilmington was taken Governor Fenton, of New York, offered the War Department ten regiments of the State National Guard for one hundred days to garrison forts, &c. The offer was referred by the Secretary of War to Lieutenant General Grant, who respectfully declined it.
